Mr. Cook and Mr. Lemus:

The Draft Proposed Decision for the above-captioned matter is enclosed for your review and comment.

Written Comments

Written comments may be filed on the Draft Proposed Decision no later than 5:00 pm on April 7, 2023. Please note that all representations of fact submitted to the Commission must be signed under penalty of perjury by persons who are authorized and competent to do so and must be based upon the declarant's personal knowledge, information, or belief. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 2, § 1187.5.) Hearsay evidence may be used for the purpose of supplementing or explaining other evidence but shall not be sufficient in itself to support a finding unless it would be admissible over an objection in civil actions. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 2, § 1187.5.) The Commission's ultimate findings of fact must be supported by substantial evidence in the record.¹

You are advised that comments filed with the Commission are required to be electronically filed (e-filed) in an unlocked legible and searchable PDF file, using the Commission's Dropbox. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 2, § 1181.3(c)(1).) Refer to http://www.csm.ca.gov/dropbox_procedures.php on the Commission's website for electronic filing instructions. If e-filing would cause the filer undue hardship or significant prejudice, filing may occur by first class mail, overnight delivery or personal service only upon approval of a written request to the executive director. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 2, § 1181.3(c)(2).)

If you would like to request an extension of time to file comments, please refer to section 1187.9(a) of the Commission's regulations.

Hearing

This matter is set for hearing on Friday, May 26, 2023, at 10:00 a.m. via Zoom. The Proposed Decision will be issued on or about May 12, 2023.

Please notify Commission staff not later than the Wednesday prior to the hearing that you or a witness you are bringing plan to testify and please specify the names and email addresses of the people who will be speaking for inclusion on the witness list and so that detailed instructions regarding how to participate as a witness in this meeting on Zoom can be provided to them. When calling or emailing, please identify the item you want to testify on and the entity you represent. The Commission Chairperson reserves the right to impose time limits on presentations as may be necessary to complete the agenda.

If you would like to request postponement of the hearing, please refer to section 1187.9(b) of the Commission's regulations.

Sex Offenders Registration: Petitions for Termination

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Overview

This Test Claim addresses Statutes 2017, chapter 541 (SB 384), which amended the Sex Offender Registration Act.¹ Specifically at issue are the changes to Penal Code section 290.5, which establishes a new procedure by which registered sex offenders may petition to terminate their duty to register as a sex offender after completing a mandatory minimum registration period based on a sex offender’s tier. The test claim statute created a three-tiered system for categorizing sex offenders that set mandatory minimum registration periods of 10 years, 20 years, and life for each respective tier, which is determined by the specific offense they were convicted for and certain enhancing factors such as subsequent convictions for a registerable offense. Under prior law, all sex offenders were required to register for life, regardless of the severity of the offense.

As explained below, staff recommends that the Commission deny this claim and find that there are no costs mandated by the state because the test claim statute “eliminates a crime or infraction” within the meaning of Government Code section 17556(g).

Procedural History

The claimant filed the Test Claim on June 29, 2022.² On November 9, 2022, Commission staff issued the Notice of Complete Test Claim, Schedule for Comments, and Notice of Tentative Hearing Date. On November 30, 2022, the Department of Finance (Finance) requested a 30-day extension to file comments, which was approved for good cause. Finance filed comments on the Commission Responsibilities

Under article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, local agencies and school districts are entitled to reimbursement for the costs of state-mandated new programs or higher levels of service. In order for local government to be eligible for reimbursement, one or more similarly situated local agencies or school districts must file a test claim with the Commission. “Test claim” means the first claim filed with the Commission alleging that a particular statute or executive order imposes costs mandated by the state. Test claims function similarly to class actions and all members of the class have the opportunity to participate in the test claim process and all are bound by the final decision of the Commission for purposes of that test claim.

The Commission is the quasi-judicial body vested with exclusive authority to adjudicate disputes over the existence of state-mandated programs within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution and not apply it as an “equitable remedy to cure the perceived unfairness resulting from political decisions on funding priorities.”⁶

Claims

Was the Test Claim timely filed?	Government Code section 17551(c) states that test claims “shall be filed not later than 12 months following the effective date of a statute or executive order, or within 12 months of incurring increased costs as a result of a statute or executive order, whichever is later.” Section 1183.1(c) of the Commission’s regulations defines 12 months as 365 days. ⁷	Timely filed – The test claim statute became effective on January 1, 2018, but became operative on July 1, 2021, which is the earliest that a petition to terminate a duty to register as a sex offender could be filed under the test claim statute, and is the earliest that claimant alleged it first incurred costs. The claimant filed its Test Claim on June 29, 2022, within 12 months of incurring increased

Does the test claim statute impose a state-mandated program under article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution?	The test claim statute requires law enforcement agencies to report to the district attorney and the superior court of the county where the petitioner resides whether the petitioner has met the requirements for termination pursuant to section 290(e). If the law enforcement agency discovers a conviction that happened outside the state that would require registration under Section 290.005 that was not already known to the Department of Justice, the law enforcement agency must report this finding to the Department for it to determine whether the conviction changes the petitioner's tier status. If the Department needs additional time to make its determination, the law enforcement agency reports to the district attorney and court about the Department's request for an extension on time to make a determination. After receiving reports from the law enforcement agencies, the district attorney of the registering county may request a hearing if the petitioner either did not meet the requirements for termination under Section 290(e) or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration. Law enforcement agencies must determine whether a petitioner has actually completed their mandatory minimum registration period, and are required to report their findings to the court, the registering county's district attorney, and the Department of Justice as necessary. District attorneys are authorized by the statute to challenge a petition by requesting the court hold a hearing and by presenting evidence at the hearing, if the mandatory minimum registration period was not met or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration, and have a duty to exercise this ability to protect public safety.⁸ Although the test claim statute phrases the district attorney's activities permissively with language

Staff Analysis

A. The Test Claim Was Timely Filed.

Government Code section 17551(c) states that test claims “shall be filed not later than 12 months following the effective date of a statute or executive order, or within 12 months of incurring increased costs as a result of a statute or executive order, whichever is later.” Section 1183.1(c) of the Commission’s regulations defines 12 months as 365 days.¹⁴

Here, the test claim statute went into effect on January 1, 2018, but because the Department of Justice required significant lead-up time to implement the new system and sort existing registered sex offenders into the three new tiers, the amended statutes had operative dates set three years later.¹⁵ Penal Code section 290.5 as amended by the test claim statute specifically became operative on July 1, 2021.¹⁶ This is the earliest date that a sex offender could petition to terminate their duty to register pursuant to the test claim statute, and that is the earliest date that the claimant alleges it incurred costs. The claimant filed the Test Claim on June 29, 2022, within

¹⁵ Statutes 2017, Chapter 541.

¹⁶ Statutes 2017, Chapter 541, section 12.

365 days of the test claim statute's operative date.¹⁷ Thus, the Test Claim was timely filed within 12 months of first incurring costs.

B. Penal Code Section 290.5, as Amended by Statutes 2017, Chapter 541, Imposes State-mandated Activities on County Law Enforcement Agencies and District Attorneys, but not on Public Defenders.

Staff finds that the test claim statute imposes state-mandated activities on law enforcement agencies and on district attorneys, but not on public defenders, who are not specifically required by the test claim statute to represent petitioners in this post-conviction civil proceeding. Law enforcement agencies must determine whether a petitioner has actually completed their mandatory minimum registration period, and are required to report their findings to the court, the registering county's district attorney, and the Department of Justice as necessary. District attorneys are authorized by the statute to challenge a petition by requesting the court hold a hearing and by presenting evidence at the hearing, if the mandatory minimum registration period was not met or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration, and have a duty to exercise this ability to protect public safety.¹⁸ Although the test claim statute phrases the district attorney's activities permissively with language like "may request a hearing" or "be entitled to present evidence," case law suggests that a local decision is not truly voluntary for the purposes of article XIII B, section 6 if it is, as a practical matter, constrained by duty.¹⁹ In contrast, the test claim statute imposes no duties on public defenders, and there is no constitutional right to the effective assistance of counsel in state post-conviction proceedings.²⁰

C. The Mandated Activities Constitute a New Program or Higher Level of Service.

Staff further finds that the mandated activities imposed on law enforcement agencies and district attorneys are new in comparison to prior law, and create a new program or higher level of service. The ability to petition to terminate a duty to register as a sex offender after completing a mandatory minimum registration period did not exist under prior law and, thus, the required activities are new. The activities required of law enforcement agencies and district attorneys serve the functional purpose of ensuring that registration continues when appropriate for individual sex offenders who still pose a risk to community safety. This carries out a governmental function of protecting and enhancing community safety, and provides a governmental service to the public. Moreover, the duties are unique to local government.

D. There Are no Costs Mandated by the State Because the Test Claim Statute Falls Within the Government Code Section 17556(g) Exception for Statutes that “eliminate a crime or infraction.”

Staff finds the state-mandated activities do not impose costs mandated by the state because the test claim statute eliminates a crime within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 and Government Code section 17556(g). Government Code section 17556(g) provides that the Commission “shall not find costs mandated by the state” when “the statute created a new crime or infraction, eliminated a crime or infraction, or changed the penalty for a crime or infraction, but only for that portion of the statute relating directly to the enforcement of the crime or infraction.” The Sex Offender Registration Act is enforced by Penal Code section 290.018, which makes it either a misdemeanor or felony to fail to register as required by the Act, depending on whether the person’s original offense that requires registration was itself a misdemeanor or felony. Under prior law, the requirement to register annually and any time the offender moved existed for life.²¹ But the test claim statute makes it so that a sex offender is no longer required to register under the Act once the offender has successfully petitioned to terminate their duty to register, as early as ten or 20 years after release. This means that once the duty to register is terminated, the offender is no longer subject to the requirements of the Sex Offender Registration Act, and any criminal penalties under Penal Code section 290.018 for failing to register or to otherwise comply for life are eliminated. Thus, the test claim statute has eliminated the crime within the meaning of Government Code section 17556(g), and, therefore, there are no costs mandated by the state.

Conclusion

Based on the forgoing analysis, staff finds that the test claim statutes do not impose a reimbursable state-mandated program on local agencies within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution.

Staff Recommendation

Staff recommends that the Commission adopt the Proposed Decision to deny the Test Claim and authorize staff to make any technical, non-substantive changes to the Proposed Decision following the hearing.

DECISION

The Commission on State Mandates (Commission) heard and decided this Test Claim during a regularly scheduled hearing on May 26, 2023. [Witness list will be included in the adopted Decision.]

The law applicable to the Commission’s determination of a reimbursable state-mandated program is article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, Government Code sections 17500 et seq., and related case law.

The Commission [adopted/modified] the Proposed Decision to deny the Test Claim by a vote of [vote will be included in the adopted Decision], as follows:

Lee Adams, County Supervisor
Gayle Miller, Representative of the Director of the Department of Finance, Chairperson

Summary of the Findings

The test claim statute amended the Sex Offender Registration Act to create a three-tiered system for classifying sex offenders based on the severity of the offense and the individual's likelihood for reoffending. Primarily at issue is a new procedure in Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by the test claim statute, which allows tier one or tier two sex offenders to petition the superior court in the county where they currently reside to terminate their duty to register as a sex offender after completing a mandatory minimum registration period. Under prior law, the duty to register as a sex offender persisted for life with rare exceptions,²² but now a duty to register may be terminated 10 or 20 years after release from incarceration, placement, commitment or release on probation or other supervision.²³

The petition to terminate the duty to register as a sex offender is served on the law enforcement agency and district attorney of the county where the petitioner currently resides, as well as the law enforcement agency and district attorney of the county where the petitioner was convicted for their registering offense if different from their county of residence. The law enforcement agencies of both counties (assuming the conviction was in a county other than the county of residence) determine whether the petitioner has satisfied their mandatory minimum registration period, and report their findings to the court and district attorney of the county where the petitioner resides, as well as to the Department of Justice if it is discovered that previously unknown registerable convictions occurred outside the state. The district attorney of the county where the petitioner resides may request the court hold a hearing on the petition if the petitioner did not complete the minimum mandatory registration period or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration. The district attorney is entitled to present evidence at the hearing as to why community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration. If the district attorney does not request a hearing, the court may either approve or summarily deny the petition based on whether the petitioner meets all the statutory requirements for approval and service and filing requirements. If the petition is denied, the court must set a time period of a minimum one year but not to exceed five years before the petitioner is allowed to petition again.

The Commission finds that the Test Claim was timely filed.

The Commission further finds that the test claim statute imposes state-mandated activities on law enforcement agencies and on district attorneys, but not on public defenders, who are not specifically required by the test claim statute to represent petitioners in this post-conviction civil proceeding. Law enforcement agencies must determine whether a petitioner has actually completed their mandatory minimum registration period, and are required to report their findings to the court, the registering county's district attorney, and the Department of Justice as necessary. District attorneys are authorized by the statute to challenge a petition by requesting the court hold a hearing and presenting evidence at the hearing, if the mandatory minimum registration period was not met or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner's continued registration, and have a duty to exercise this ability to protect public safety.²⁴ Although the test claim statute phrases the district attorney’s activities permissively with language like “may request a hearing” or “be entitled to present evidence,” case law suggests that a local decision is not truly voluntary for the purposes of article XIII B, section 6 if it is, as a practical matter, constrained by duty.²⁵ In contrast, the test claim statute imposes no duties on public defenders, and there is no constitutional right to the effective assistance of counsel in state post-conviction proceedings.²⁶

The Commission further finds that the mandated activities imposed on law enforcement agencies and district attorneys are new in comparison to prior law, and constitute a new program or higher level of service. The ability to petition to terminate a duty to register as a sex offender after completing a mandatory minimum registration period did not exist under prior law and, thus, the required activities are new. The activities required of law enforcement agencies and district attorneys serve the functional purpose of ensuring that registration continues when appropriate for individual sex offenders who still pose a risk to community safety. This carries out a governmental function of protecting and enhancing community safety, and provides a governmental service to the public. Moreover, the duties are unique to local government.

However, the Commission finds these state-mandated activities do not impose costs mandated by the state because the test claim statute eliminates a crime within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 and Government Code section 17556(g). Government Code section 17556(g) provides that the Commission “shall not find costs mandated by the state” when “the statute created a new crime or infraction, eliminated a crime or infraction, or changed the penalty for a crime or infraction, but only for that portion of the statute relating directly to the enforcement of the crime or infraction.” The Sex Offender Registration Act is enforced by Penal Code section 290.018, which makes it either a misdemeanor or felony to fail to register as required by the Act, depending on whether the person’s original offense that requires registration was itself a misdemeanor or felony. Under prior law, the requirement to register annually and any time the offender moved existed for life.²⁷ But the test claim statute makes it so that a sex offender is no longer required to register under the Act once the offender has successfully petitioned to terminate their duty to register, as early as ten or 20 years after release. This means that once the duty to register is terminated, the offender is no longer subject to the requirements of the Sex Offender Registration Act, and any criminal penalties under Penal Code section 290.018 for failing to register or to otherwise comply for life are eliminated. Thus, the test claim statute has eliminated the crime within the meaning of Government Code section 17556(g), and, therefore, there are no costs mandated by the state.

Accordingly, the Commission denies this Test Claim.

II. Background

A. California's Sex Offender Registry

California was the first state to enact sex offender registration laws in 1947.³² Before the enactment of the test claim statute, the Sex Offender Registration Act³³ required any person living in California who had been convicted of one of several enumerated sexual offenses in California, another state, or by a federal or military court, after July 1, 1944, “for the rest of his or her life while residing in California,” register with law enforcement as follows:

Every person described in subdivision (c), for the rest of his or her life while residing in California, or while attending school or working in California, as described in Sections 290.002 and 290.01, shall be required to register with the chief of police of the city in which he or she is residing, or the sheriff of the county if he or she is residing in an unincorporated area or city that has no police department, and, additionally, with the chief of police of a campus of the University of California, the California State University, or community college if he or she is residing upon the campus or in any of its facilities, within five working days of coming into, or changing his or her residence within, any city, county, or city and county, or campus in which he or she temporarily resides, and shall be required to register thereafter in accordance with the Act.³⁴

Registration is required upon release from incarceration, placement, commitment, or probation.³⁵ Beginning on the first birthday following registration, the person is required to register annually using the Department of Justice's annual update form within five days of the registrant's birthday, whenever the sex offender moves residences within the jurisdiction, and people who are living as transients or were convicted as Sexually Violent Predators are additionally required to update their registration every 30 or 90 days respectively.³⁶

The Act is enforced by Penal Code section 290.018, which states that failure to register as required by the Act, or a violation of any requirement of the Act (including the failure to provide the information required to register), is a misdemeanor punishable by up to a year imprisonment in county jail if the registering offense was a misdemeanor, or a felony punishable by up to three years imprisonment in state prison if the registering offense was a felony.³⁷

Over time, the Act grew to cover additional offenses and impose new requirements on sex offenders and the local and state government agencies that manage the registry, but one thing was consistent: with rare exceptions, if a person was convicted for an offense that created a duty

to register as a sex offender, that duty existed for life, so long as they lived in California.³⁸ Up until the test claim statute went into effect, California was one of only four states that required all sex offenders register for life, the other three being Florida, South Carolina, and Alabama.³⁹ One other state required all its sex offenders register for a finite duration, while the remaining 45 states used some type of tiered system where registration duration is determined by either the sex offender's risk for re-offense, the severity of the offense, or both.⁴⁰ Requiring all sex offenders register for life resulted in California not only having the oldest sex offender registry in the United States, but the largest too.⁴¹ By the time the test claim statute was enacted in 2017, there were over 100,000 registered sex offenders living in California.⁴² Many of these were for misdemeanor convictions or people found to have a low risk of re-offense.⁴³

In 2010 the California Sex Offender Management Board (CASOMB) published its recommended policies for future legislation regarding sex offenders.⁴⁴ It found that requiring lifetime registration for all sex offenders resulted in law enforcement agencies and the public having no way of differentiating high risk and low risk sex offenders.⁴⁵ Law enforcement agencies were unable to concentrate their limited resources on closely supervising the most dangerous sex offenders and those with a higher risk of re-offense.⁴⁶ It determined that imposing lifetime registration for all sex offenders was not necessary to safeguard the public, and recommended implementing a risk-based system with differentiated registration requirements.⁴⁷ As proposed by CASOMB, this would be a three-tiered system with registration durations of 10 years, 20 years, or lifetime, and the criteria for determining a person's tier would take into consideration the seriousness of the offender’s criminal history, the empirically assessed risk level of the offender, and whether the offender is a recidivist or has violated California’s sex offender registration law.⁴⁸

B. Federal Law –The Adam Walsh Act

The Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006 is a federal law amending the Jacob Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act that requires each state to maintain its own jurisdiction-wide sex offender registry.⁴⁹ The Adam Walsh Act recommends a three-tiered system in which tier 1 sex offenders are required to keep their registration current for 15 years, tier 2 sex offenders register for 25 years, and tier 3 sex offenders register for life.⁵⁰ A jurisdiction that fails to substantially implement the requirements of the Act is subject to a ten percent reduction in the funding it would otherwise receive under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Street Act of 1968.⁵¹

Although the legislative history of the test claim statute does note conforming with the Adam Walsh Act as one reason for moving to a tiered system,⁵² the existing sex offender registry with its lifetime registration requirement was found by the U.S. Department of Justice to substantially conform to the Adam Walsh Act, meaning there was no actual risk of defunding that demanded implementing this change.⁵³ Additionally, the Adam Walsh Act does not require sex offenders actively petition to be removed from the registry at the end of the registration period, or dictate any other procedure to relieve sex offenders of their duty to register at the end of a registration period. This makes the entire petition and hearing process outlined in the test claim statute an activity that was not mandated by federal law, even if the tiered registration system were mandated by federal law.

C. Certificates of Rehabilitation

Under prior law, the only way a person could be relieved of their duty to register as a sex offender in California was by receiving a certificate of rehabilitation.⁵⁴ Former section 290.5, as last amended in 2014, provided that “A person required to register under Section 290 for an offense not listed in paragraph (2), upon obtaining a certificate of rehabilitation under Chapter

3.5 (commencing with Section 4852.01) of Title 6 of Part 3, shall be relieved of any further duty to register under Section 290 if he or she is not in custody, on parole, or on probation.”⁵⁵

A certificate of rehabilitation is proof that a person has been successfully rehabilitated in the eyes of the law and restores several civil rights. For example, a person who has received a certificate of rehabilitation cannot be denied a business license based on their criminal history.⁵⁶ Neither can a person’s criminal history be used to discredit them as a witness when testifying in a trial.⁵⁷ Being granted a certificate of rehabilitation also is treated as an automatic application to the governor for a pardon, which can be granted without any additional investigation.⁵⁸

Prior to 1996, Penal Code section 290.5 said that anyone granted a certificate of rehabilitation would be relieved of their duty to register as a sex offender. However, in 1996, the Legislature amended section 290.5 to severely limit this ability by stating that a certificate of rehabilitation would not relieve a duty to register for several stated offenses unless the offender also received a full pardon from the governor.⁵⁹

Today, sex offenders are only able to receive a certificate of rehabilitation if they were convicted of misdemeanor sexual offenses, or felony sex offenses where the person was granted probation, and the accusatory pleading was dismissed pursuant to Penal Code section 1203.4, “if the petitioner has not been incarcerated in a prison, jail, detention facility, or other penal institution or agency since the dismissal of the accusatory pleading, is not on probation for the commission of any other felony, and the petitioner presents satisfactory evidence of five years' residence in this state prior to the filing of the petition.”⁶⁰

Although the test claim statute made amendments so that a certificate of rehabilitation will no longer relieve a person of their duty to register as a sex offender, the certificate of rehabilitation procedure still exists. A person who was eligible under prior law to have their registration requirement terminated through a certificate of rehabilitation can petition for both a certificate of rehabilitation and to be terminated from the registry under current law, and would have good reasons to seek both for the different types of relief each grants.

D. Statute 2017, Chapter 541 (SB 384), the Test Claim Statute

Statutes 2017, chapter 541 became effective on January 1, 2018, with an operative date of July 1, 2021 to allow the Department of Justice adequate time to implement a new system.⁶¹ The test claim statute established a three-tiered system for categorizing sex offenders, and created a process through which people registered in lower tiers may terminate their duty to register after completing a mandated minimum registration period. The claimant pleads Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by the test claim statute (Stats 2017, ch. 541, sec. 12), but there are a few other Penal Code sections amended by the test claim statute that are relevant to the analysis and are described below, though the Commission does not take jurisdiction over them since they were not pled.

1. Amendments to Penal Code Section 290.

Statutes 2017, chapter 541 amended section 290,⁶² and subdivision (b) now states, with amendments in underline:

- (b) Every person described in subdivision (c), for the period specified in subdivision (d) while residing in California, or while attending school or working in California, as described in Sections 290.002 and 290.01, shall register with the chief of police of the city in which he or she is residing, or the sheriff of the county if he or she is residing in an unincorporated area or city that has no police department, and, additionally, with the chief of police of a campus of the University of California, the California State University, or community college if he or she is residing upon the campus or in any of its facilities, within five working days of coming into, or changing his or her residence within, any city, county, or city and county, or campus in which he or she temporarily resides, and shall register thereafter in accordance with the Act, unless the duty to register is terminated pursuant to Section 290.5 or as otherwise provided by law.

Section 290(c) lists all the offenses that require registering under the act, and was unchanged by the test claim statute.

Section 290(d) was added by the test claim statute and requires a tier one sex offender to register for a minimum 10 years “following a conviction and release from incarceration, placement, commitment, or release on probation or other supervision,” tier two sex offenders register for a minimum 20 years “following a conviction and release from incarceration, placement, commitment, or release on probation or other supervision,” and tier three sex offenders register for life. It also states the criteria for determining a sex offender’s tier based on the specific offense committed and certain enhancing factors such as subsequent convictions for registerable offenses or the person’s risk level on the static risk assessment instrument for sex offenders (SARATSO).

⁶² Statutes 2017, Chapter 541, sections 1 through 2.5.

The test claim statute also added section 290(e) to define when the minimum time period for the completion of the required registration period begins, and ways that the registration period can be extended or restarted, as follows:

- (e) The minimum time period for the completion of the required registration period in tier one or two commences on the date of release from incarceration, placement, or commitment, including any related civil commitment on the registerable offense. The minimum time for the completion of the required registration period for a designated tier is tolled during any period of subsequent incarceration, placement, or commitment, including any subsequent civil commitment, except that arrests not resulting in conviction, adjudication, or revocation of probation or parole shall not toll the required registration period. The minimum time period shall be extended by one year for each misdemeanor conviction of failing to register under this act, and by three years for each felony conviction of failing to register under this act, without regard to the actual time served in custody for the conviction. If a registrant is subsequently convicted of another offense requiring registration pursuant to the Act, a new minimum time period for the completion of the registration requirement for the applicable tier shall commence upon that person's release from incarceration, placement, or commitment, including any related civil commitment. If the subsequent conviction requiring registration pursuant to the Act occurs prior to an order to terminate the registrant from the registry after completion of a tier associated with the first conviction for a registerable offense, the applicable tier shall be the highest tier associated with the convictions.

Lastly, section 290(f) was added to note that a ward of the juvenile court is not required to register under this statute, except as provided by section 290.008.

2. Amendments to Penal Code Section 290.5

The test claim statute amended Penal Code section 290.5,⁶³ which under prior law simply acknowledged that a Certificate of Rehabilitation would relieve a person of their duty to register.⁶⁴

The amended section now: (1) grants tier one or two offenders the ability to petition the court to be terminated from the sex offender registry after completing their mandated minimum registration period; (2) requires law enforcement agencies to determine whether the petitioner has met their mandatory minimum registration period, grants district attorneys the authority to request a hearing on the petition, and grants courts the authority to approve or deny the petition without a hearing if the district attorney did not request one; (3) authorizes district attorneys to present evidence at a hearing and states the factors courts should consider when determining whether or not to approve a petition at a hearing; (4) requires courts to set a time period before a petitioner is allowed to petition again if their petition is denied; and (5) requires courts to notify the Department of Justice of the outcome of the petition. As amended, Section 290.5(a) now states:

- (a)(1) A person who is required to register pursuant to Section 290 and who is a tier one or tier two offender may file a petition in the superior court in the county in which he or she is registered for termination from the sex offender registry at the expiration of his or her mandated minimum registration period, or if the person is required to register pursuant to Section 290.008, he or she may file the petition in juvenile court on or after his or her birthday following the expiration of the mandated minimum registration period. The petition shall contain proof of the person's current registration as a sex offender.
- (2) The petition shall be served on the registering law enforcement agency and the district attorney in the county where the petition is filed and on the law enforcement agency and the district attorney of the county of conviction of a registerable offense if different than the county where the petition is filed. The registering law enforcement agency and the law enforcement agency of the county of conviction of a registerable offense if different than the county where the petition is filed shall, within 60 days of receipt of the petition, report to the district attorney and the superior or juvenile court in which the petition is filed regarding whether the person has met the requirements for termination pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 290. If an offense which may require registration pursuant to Section 290.005 is identified by the registering law enforcement agency which has not previously been assessed by the Department of Justice, the registering law enforcement agency shall refer that conviction to the department for assessment and determination of whether the conviction changes the tier designation assigned by the department to the offender. If the newly discovered offense changes the tier designation for that person, the department shall change the tier designation pursuant to subdivision (d) of Section 290 within three months of receipt of the request by the registering law enforcement agency and notify the registering law enforcement agency. If more time is required to obtain the documents needed to make the assessment, the department shall notify the registering law enforcement agency of the reason that an extension of time is necessary to complete the tier designation. The registering law enforcement agency shall report to the district attorney and the court that the department has requested an extension of time to determine the person's tier designation based on the newly discovered offense, the reason for the request, and the estimated time needed to complete the tier designation. The district attorney in the county where the petition is filed may, within 60 days of receipt of the report from either the registering law enforcement agency, the law enforcement agency of the county of conviction of a registerable offense if different than the county where the petition is filed, or the district attorney of the county of conviction of a registerable offense, request a hearing on the petition if the petitioner has not fulfilled the requirement described in subdivision (e) of Section 290, or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the person's continued registration. If no hearing is requested,

- the petition for termination shall be granted if the court finds the required proof of current registration is presented in the petition, provided that the registering agency reported that the person met the requirement for termination pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 290, there are no pending charges against the person which could extend the time to complete the registration requirements of the tier or change the person's tier status, and the person is not in custody or on parole, probation, or supervised release.
- (3) If the district attorney requests a hearing, he or she shall be entitled to present evidence regarding whether community safety would be significantly enhanced by requiring continued registration. In determining whether to order continued registration, the court shall consider: the nature and facts of the registerable offense; the age and number of victims; whether any victim was a stranger at the time of the offense (known to the offender for less than 24 hours); criminal and relevant noncriminal behavior before and after conviction for the registerable offense; the time period during which the person has not reoffended; successful completion, if any, of a Sex Offender Management Board-certified sex offender treatment program; and the person's current risk of sexual or violent reoffense, including the person's risk levels on SARATSO static, dynamic, and violence risk assessment instruments, if available. Any judicial determination made pursuant to this section may be heard and determined upon declarations, affidavits, police reports, or any other evidence submitted by the parties which is reliable, material, and relevant.
 - (4) If termination from the registry is denied, the court shall set the time period after which the person can repetition for termination, which shall be at least one year from the date of the denial, but not to exceed five years, based on facts presented at the hearing. The court shall state on the record the reason for its determination setting the time period after which the person may repetition.
 - (5) The court shall notify the Department of Justice, California Sex Offender Registry, when a petition for termination from the registry is granted or denied. If the petition is denied, the court shall also notify the Department of Justice, California Sex Offender Registry, of the time period after which the person can file a new petition for termination.

As amended, section 290.5(b) allows certain tier two and tier three offenders to petition to be terminated from the registry earlier than is normally permitted, and now states:

- (b)(1) A person required to register as a tier two offender, pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of Section 290, may petition the superior court for termination from the registry after 10 years from release from custody on the registerable offense if all of the following apply: (A) the registerable offense involved no more than one victim 14 to 17 years of age, inclusive; (B) the offender was under 21 years of age at the time of the offense; (C) the registerable offense is not specified in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5, except subdivision (a) of Section 288; and (D) the registerable offense is not specified in Section 236.1.

- (2) A tier two offender described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) may file a petition with the superior court for termination from the registry only if he or she has not been convicted of a new offense requiring sex offender registration or an offense described in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 since the person was released from custody on the offense requiring registration pursuant to Section 290, and has registered for 10 years pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 290. The court shall determine whether community safety would be significantly enhanced by requiring continued registration and may consider the following factors: whether the victim was a stranger (known less than 24 hours) at the time of the offense; the nature of the registerable offense, including whether the offender took advantage of a position of trust; criminal and relevant noncriminal behavior before and after the conviction for the registerable offense; whether the offender has successfully completed a Sex Offender Management Board-certified sex offender treatment program; whether the offender initiated a relationship for the purpose of facilitating the offense; and the person's current risk of sexual or violent reoffense, including the person's risk levels on SARATSO static, dynamic, and violence risk assessment instruments, if known. If the petition is denied, the person may not reappear for termination for at least one year.
- (3) A person required to register as a tier three offender based solely on his or her risk level, pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (d) of Section 290, may petition the court for termination from the registry after 20 years from release from custody on the registerable offense, if the person (A) has not been convicted of a new offense requiring sex offender registration or an offense described in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 since the person was released from custody on the offense requiring registration pursuant to Section 290, and (B) has registered for 20 years pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 290; except that a person required to register for a conviction pursuant to Section 288 or an offense listed in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7 who is a tier three offender based on his or her risk level, pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (d) of Section 290, shall not be permitted to petition for removal from the registry. The court shall determine whether community safety would be significantly enhanced by requiring continued registration and may consider the following factors: whether the victim was a stranger (known less than 24 hours) at the time of the offense; the nature of the registerable offense, including whether the offender took advantage of a position of trust; criminal and relevant noncriminal behavior before and after the conviction for the registerable offense; whether the offender has successfully completed a Sex Offender Management Board-certified sex offender treatment program; whether the offender initiated a relationship for the purpose of facilitating the offense; and the person's current risk of sexual or violent reoffense, including the person's risk levels on SARATSO static, dynamic, and violence risk assessment instruments, if known. If the petition is denied, the person may not repetition for termination for at least three years.⁶⁵

Section 290.5(c) sets the section's operative date as July 1, 2021.

3. Amendments to Penal Code 4852.03

Penal Code section 4852.03 provides the requirements to be eligible for a certificate of rehabilitation. The test claim statute amended Penal Code section 4852.03(a)(2), to specifically state that a certificate of rehabilitation issued after July 1, 2021, does not relieve a person of the obligation to register as a sex offender, unless the person complies with Penal Code section 290.5, and the specific amended subparagraphs provide as follows (in ~~strikeout~~ and underline):

- (2) (A) An additional five years in the case of a person convicted of committing an offense or attempted offense for which sex offender registration is required pursuant to Sections 290 to 290.024, inclusive, except that in the case of a person convicted of a violation of subdivision (b), (c), or (d) of Section 311.2, or of Section 311.3, 311.10, or 314, an additional two years.
- (B) A certificate of rehabilitation issued on or after July 1, 2021, does not relieve a person of the obligation to register as a sex offender unless the person obtains relief granted under Section 290.5.

E. Prior Commission Decisions Addressing the Sex Offender Registration Act

On August 23, 2001, the Commission adopted a Decision in Sex Offenders: Disclosure by Law Enforcement Officers, 97-TC-15, which addressed Penal Code sections 290 and 290.4, as amended in 1996 and 1997. The Commission denied reimbursement for any activity related to new crimes added by the Legislature, the conviction of which required the registration of the offender, based on Government Code section 17556(g). The Commission reasoned as follows:

As stated above, if these convicted sex offenders fail to register as a sex offender, they will now be guilty of a misdemeanor, felony and/or a continuing offense; whereas before the test claim legislation, they would not have been guilty of a crime. Accordingly, the Commission finds that this portion of the test claim legislation creates a new crime.⁶⁶

The Commission approved reimbursement for various notice, record-keeping, and communication activities with the Department of Justice.⁶⁷

On September 27, 2005, the Commission adopted its Decision on Reconsideration of Sex Offenders: Disclosure by Law Enforcement Officers, 04-RL-9715-06, as directed by Statutes 2004, chapter 316 (AB 2851), which required the Commission to reconsider the Test Claim “in light of federal statutes enacted and federal and state court decisions rendered” since the test claim statutes were enacted.⁶⁸ The Commission found that three previously approved activities were enacted because of the federal Megan’s Law sex offender registration program that existed at the time, and were determined to be part and parcel of that federal law.

On January 24, 2014, the Commission adopted its Decision in State Authorized Risk Assessment Tool for Sex Offenders (SARATSO), 08-TC-03, partially approving the Test Claim. The Commission denied the activities that changed the penalty for a crime or infraction within the meaning of Government Code section 17556(g), and approved the remaining new administrative requirements and the requirements to use SARATSO to assess those persons previously convicted of a sex offense, and include that information in certain reports for the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation.⁶⁹

III. Positions of the Parties

A. County of Los Angeles

The claimant, County of Los Angeles, alleges that the test claim statute imposes a reimbursable state mandated program under article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution. The claimant asserts that Statutes 2017, chapter 541, section 12 amends Penal Code section 290.5(a)(2) to create newly mandated activities for public defenders, law enforcement agencies, and district attorneys, and amends Penal Code section 290.5(a)(3) to create newly mandated activities for district attorneys and public defenders.

The claimant alleges that to comply with the requirements of section 290.5(a)(2), public defenders must “gather records, conduct necessary research, assess the petitioner’s eligibility, and prepare and file the petition. The PD’s office must comply with PC § 290.5(a)(2) and serve copies of the petition on the superior or juvenile court, the registering agency, and the DA’s office.”⁷⁰

The claimant alleges that to comply with the requirements of section 290.5(a)(2), the Los Angeles County Sheriff Department (LASD) “must thoroughly review each petition, which includes conducting local and national records checks to identify criminal convictions, post-conviction time spent in custody, and calculate convictions and time served pursuant to PC § 290.”⁷¹

The claimant alleges that to prepare for being served petitions under section 290.5(a)(2), the district attorney’s office “created a system accommodation in their Prosecutorial Information Management System (PIMS) in order to handle petitions. Additionally, the DA created an Excel spreadsheet and a shared drive capable of tracking petitions. Further, the petition and all accompanying documents must be scanned and entered into PIMS.”⁷² The claimant further asserts that, to determine whether to exercise the authority granted to district attorneys under section 290.5(a)(2) to request a hearing on a petition, the district attorneys “must retrieve court records (local and out of county) and review case documents and risk assessment tools to determine whether the petitioner is eligible and appropriate for removal from the registry in relation to public safety. The DA must submit a California Judicial Council Form to the court and defense counsel.”⁷³

For section 290.5(a)(3), the claimant alleges:

PC § 290.5(a)(3) states that any judicial determination made pursuant to this section may be heard and determined upon declarations, affidavits, police reports, or any other evidence submitted by the parties, which is reliable, material, and relevant. As a result of this new hearing process, the DA and PD must collect affidavits, declarations, police reports, and any other relevant evidence for consideration by the court. A petitioner must be represented at this hearing by an attorney who understands the law, court process, and rules of evidence.

Regarding the activities of public defenders, the claimant does not cite any provision of the test claim statute that specifically says public defenders must perform an action, and acknowledges that “once a PD client is sentenced, the PD’s duties cease with respect to that client except in limited circumstances,” giving civil commitment hearings under the Sexually Violent Predator Act as an example of one such limited circumstance.⁷⁴ The claimant does not address why it believes there is an exception to the rule here, except to assert without citation that “The legislatively created post-conviction process in Penal Code section 290.5 would violate due process if a lawyer were not provided in this legal, evidentiary, and adversarial proceeding.”⁷⁵

The claimant alleges it has incurred increased costs of $316,299 in the 2021-2022 fiscal year to comply with the test claim statute.⁷⁶ Specifically, it alleges $27,407 in increased costs from the

Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department associated with receiving and reviewing petitions under section 290.5, $198,835 in increased costs incurred by the District Attorney's Office for reviewing and processing petitions, and $90,057 in increased costs incurred by the Public Defender's Office associated with training on section 290.5 and filing petitions.⁷⁷

The claimant estimates it will incur $610,693 in increased costs in the 2022-2023 fiscal year for complying with the requirements of section 290.5,⁷⁸ and estimates annual statewide costs of $4,506,187.⁷⁹

The claimant asserts that Government Code section 17556(g) does not apply to this test claim because both the U.S. and California Supreme Courts have found that requiring a person to register as a sex offender is not a punishment for the offense, but is instead considered civil, nonpunitive, and regulatory in nature.⁸⁰ Because the sex offender registry is not considered a punishment, the test claim statute did not change the penalty for a crime. The claimant therefore requests that the Commission reject Finance's conclusion that the test claim be denied on the grounds of Government Code section 17556(g).

B. Department of Finance

Finance asserts that any costs incurred by the claimant are not state-reimbursable pursuant to Government Code section 17556(g), which states the Commission shall not find reimbursable costs mandated by the state when "The statute created a new crime or infraction, eliminated a crime or infraction, or changed the penalty for a crime or infraction, but only for that portion of the statute relating directly to the enforcement of the crime or infraction."⁸¹ Finance believes this section applies because the test claim statute, "made changes to the statutes governing the penalties for persons convicted of specified sex offenses. Prior to the enactment of SB 384, Penal Code (PC) Section 290 required that persons convicted of specified sex offenses register with the police department or the sheriff's department in whose jurisdiction they resided, and that this registration be maintained for the rest of their life or until they moved from California."⁸² Finance reasons that the lifetime registration requirement was one of the penalties for committing a registerable offense, because the intent of the sex offender registry was

Doe* (2003) 538 U.S. 84, 85-87, which found that the Alaska State Legislature intended to enact a civil program, and that registration of sex offenders was not a punishment for the crime.; and In re Alva (2004) 33 Cal.4th 254, 262, which found as follows: "[W]e conclude that California's law requiring the mere registration of convicted sex offenders is not a punitive measure subject to either state or federal proscriptions against punishment that is "cruel" and/or "unusual."

to prevent the offenders from recommitting the same or similar offenses by making their presence known to law enforcement and to the broader community. The preventative effect of this penalty is enhanced by PC Section 290.46, which requires the California Department of Justice to make available on a public internet website specified identifying information, including the name, photograph, and address or community of residence and Zip Code, of sex offenders required to register pursuant to PC Section 290. That the registration requirement is a penalty for the triggering offenses is substantiated by the fact that the registration requirement only applies to a person who committed those offenses.⁸³

Finance concluded that the changes made to the sex offender registry system by the test claim statute change the penalty for a crime or infraction, and that the changes made relate directly to enforcing the crime or infraction. Finance concluded that Government Code 17556(g) therefore requires the Commission to deny the test claim in its entirety.

IV. Discussion

Article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution provides in relevant part the following:

Whenever the Legislature or any state agency mandates a new program or higher level of service on any local government, the state shall provide a subvention of funds to reimburse such local government for the costs of such programs or increased level of service...

The purpose of article XIII B, section 6 is to “preclude the state from shifting financial responsibility for carrying out governmental functions to local agencies, which are ‘ill equipped’ to assume increased financial responsibilities because of the taxing and spending limitations that articles XIII A and XIII B impose.”⁸⁴ Thus, the subvention requirement of section 6 is “directed to state-mandated increases in the services provided by [local government] ...”⁸⁵

Reimbursement under article XIII B, section 6 is required when the following elements are met:

1. A state statute or executive order requires or “mandates” local agencies or school districts to perform an activity.⁸⁶
2. The mandated activity constitutes a “program” that either:
 - a. Carries out the governmental function of providing a service to the public; or
 - b. Imposes unique requirements on local agencies or school districts and does not apply generally to all residents and entities in the state.⁸⁷

3. The mandated activity is new when compared with the legal requirements in effect immediately before the enactment of the test claim statute or executive order and it increases the level of service provided to the public.⁸⁸
4. The mandated activity results in the local agency or school district incurring increased costs, within the meaning of section 17514. Increased costs, however, are not reimbursable if an exception identified in Government Code section 17556 applies to the activity.⁸⁹

The Commission is vested with the exclusive authority to adjudicate disputes over the existence of state-mandated programs within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution.⁹⁰ The determination whether a statute or executive order imposes a reimbursable state-mandated program is a question of law.⁹¹ In making its decisions, the Commission must strictly construe article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, and not apply it as an “equitable remedy to cure the perceived unfairness resulting from political decisions on funding priorities.”⁹²

A. The Test Claim Was Timely Filed.

Government Code section 17551(c) states that test claims “shall be filed not later than 12 months following the effective date of a statute or executive order, or within 12 months of incurring increased costs as a result of a statute or executive order, whichever is later.” Section 1183.1(c) of the Commission’s regulations defines 12 months as 365 days.⁹³

Here, the test claim statute went into effect on January 1, 2018, but to give the Department of Justice lead-up time to prepare the new system and sort existing registered sex offenders into the three new tiers, the statutes did not become operative until three years later.⁹⁴ Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by the test claim statute, became operative on July 1, 2021.⁹⁵ This was the earliest date that a sex offender could petition to terminate their duty to register pursuant to the test claim statute, and that is the earliest date that claimant alleges it incurred costs. claimant filed the Test Claim on June 29, 2022, within 365 days of the test claim statute's operative date.⁹⁶ Thus, the Test Claim was timely filed within 12 months of first incurring costs.

B. The Test Claim Statute Imposes State-Mandated Activities on County Law Enforcement Agencies and District Attorneys, but Not on Public Defenders.

1. Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by Statutes 2017, chapter 541, imposes state-mandated activities on law enforcement agencies and district attorneys.

To be reimbursable under article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, the requirements must be mandated by the state; or ordered, commanded, or legally compelled by state law.⁹⁷ “Legal compulsion is present when the local entity has a mandatory, legally enforceable duty to obey.”⁹⁸ Generally, a requirement is not mandated by the state if it is triggered by a local voluntary decision.⁹⁹ However, the courts have recognized the possibility that a state-mandated program may exist when that decision is not truly voluntary, i.e., when local government is compelled as a practical matter to perform the requirements.¹⁰⁰

The activities required of law enforcement agencies by the test claim statute are mandated by the state. After being served a petition to terminate a duty to register, the registering law enforcement agency and the law enforcement agency of the county of conviction of a registerable offense if different than the county where the petition is filed “shall, within 60 days of receipt of the petition, report to the district attorney and the superior or juvenile court in which the petition is filed regarding whether the person has met the requirements for termination pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 290.”¹⁰¹ As indicated above, Penal Code section 290(e) defines the minimum time period for the completion of the required registration period, and ways that the registration period can be extended or restarted. If the registering law enforcement agency identifies a conviction that was not previously assessed by the Department of Justice, but which requires registration pursuant to the requirements of Penal Code section 290.005 regarding out-of-state, federal, or military court convictions, the registering law enforcement agency “shall” refer that conviction to the Department of Justice for assessment and determination of whether the conviction changes the tier designation assigned by the Department to the offender.¹⁰² If the Department of Justice needs more time to obtain the documents to make the assessment, the Department of Justice is required notify the registering law enforcement agency of the reason that an extension of time is necessary to complete the tier designation. The registering law enforcement agency “shall” then report to the district attorney and the court that the Department of Justice has requested an extension of time to determine the person’s tier designation based on the newly discovered offense, the reason for the request, and the estimated time needed to complete the tier designation.¹⁰³ Based on the plain language of the test claim statute, these activities are mandated by the state.

The test claim statute imposes activities on district attorneys which are mandated by the state. Within 60 days of receiving reports from the law enforcement agencies or the district attorney of the county of conviction of the registerable offense, the registering county’s district attorney “may” request the court hold a hearing on the petition if the petitioner has not fulfilled the requirements described in Penal Code section 290(e) to meet their mandatory minimum registration period, or if community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner’s continued registration.¹⁰⁴ If the district attorney requests a hearing, the district attorney “shall be entitled to present evidence” showing why community safety would be significantly enhanced by the petitioner’s continued registration.¹⁰⁵ Penal Code section 290.5(a)(3) describes the evidence considered by the court:

The court shall consider: the nature and facts of the registerable offense; the age and number of victims; whether any victim was a stranger at the time of the offense (known to the offender for less than 24 hours); criminal and relevant noncriminal behavior before and after conviction for the registerable offense; the time period during which the person has not reoffended; successful completion, if any, of a Sex Offender Management Board-certified sex offender treatment program; and the person’s current risk of sexual or violent reoffense, including the person’s risk levels on SARATSO static, dynamic, and violence risk assessment instruments, if available. Any judicial determination made pursuant to this section may be heard and determined upon declarations, affidavits, police reports, or any other evidence submitted by the parties which is reliable, material, and relevant.

Although the test claim statute phrases the district attorney’s activities permissively with language like “may request a hearing” or “be entitled to present evidence,” case law suggests that a local decision is not truly voluntary for the purposes of article XIII B, section 6 if it is, as a practical matter, constrained by duty. In San Diego Unified School Dist., the California Supreme Court suggested that a local discretionary action should not be considered voluntary if, as a practical matter, it must inevitably occur.¹⁰⁶ In that case, the Court was faced with statutory hearing requirements triggered by two types of school expulsions: “mandatory” expulsions, which state law required school principals to recommend whenever a student was found to be in possession of a firearm at school or at a school activity off school grounds, and “discretionary” expulsions, which state law granted school principals the authority to recommend for other conduct.¹⁰⁷ Although the Court confidently concluded that costs for the hearing requirements triggered by “mandatory” expulsions were reimbursable state mandated costs,¹⁰⁸ it hesitated to apply that same logic to deny reimbursement for the “discretionary” expulsions.¹⁰⁹ However, it cautioned in dicta that strictly denying reimbursement whenever a requirement was triggered by a technically discretionary local action may well contravene both the intent underlying article XIII B, section 6 and past holdings,¹¹⁰ stating:

Upon reflection, we agree with the District and amici curiae that there is reason to question an extension of the holding of City of Merced so as to preclude reimbursement under article XIII B, section 6 of the state Constitution and Government Code section 17514, whenever an entity makes an initial discretionary decision that in turn triggers mandated costs. Indeed, it would appear that under a strict application of the language in City of Merced, public entities would be denied reimbursement for state-mandated costs in apparent contravention of the intent underlying article XIII B, section 6 of the state Constitution and Government Code section 17514 and contrary to past decisions in which it has been established that reimbursement was in fact proper. For example, as explained above, in Carmel Valley, supra, 190 Cal.App.3d 521, 234 Cal.Rptr. 795, an executive order requiring that county firefighters be provided with protective clothing and safety equipment was found to create a reimbursable state mandate for the added costs of such clothing and equipment. (Id., at pp. 537–538, 234 Cal.Rptr. 795.) The court in Carmel Valley apparently did not contemplate that reimbursement would be foreclosed in that setting merely because a local agency possessed discretion concerning how many firefighters it would employ—and hence, in that sense, could control or perhaps even avoid the extra costs to which it would be subjected. Yet, under a strict application of the rule gleaned from City of Merced, supra, 153 Cal.App.3d 777, 200 Cal.Rptr. 642, *such costs would not be reimbursable for the simple reason that the local agency's decision to employ firefighters involves an exercise of discretion concerning, for example, how many firefighters are needed to be employed, etc. We find it doubtful that the voters who enacted article XIII B, section 6, or the Legislature that adopted Government Code section 17514, intended that result, and hence we are reluctant to endorse, in this case, an application of the rule of City of Merced that might lead to such a result.*¹¹¹

In Department of Finance v. Commission on State Mandates (POBRA), the Third District Court of Appeal suggested that duty is the dividing line between truly voluntary and technically discretionary decisions.¹¹² In that case, the court was tasked with determining whether the Public Safety Officers Procedural Bill of Rights Act (POBRA), which granted procedural protections to state and local peace officers subject to investigation, interrogation, or discipline, imposed a reimbursable state mandated program on school districts and community college districts that employ peace officers.¹¹³ The court held that because those protections were triggered by a local discretionary decision, that statute did not impose a reimbursable state mandated program on those districts.¹¹⁴ However, the court also clarified that this discretionary decision was not the district's decision to investigate, interrogate, or discipline its peace officers, but rather the district's decision to employ peace officers in the first place.¹¹⁵ It explained that since counties and cities had a basic and mandatory duty to provide policing services,¹¹⁶ their administration of this duty, as a practical matter, necessarily included actions such as investigating, interrogating, or disciplining its peace officers. Thus, those actions and the downstream requirements imposed by the POBRA statutes could not reasonably be considered "truly voluntary" when performed by counties and cities.¹¹⁷

The same analysis applies here. It is a district attorney's duty as a public prosecutor to "attend the courts, and within his or her discretion shall initiate and conduct on behalf of the people all prosecutions for public offenses."¹¹⁸ It would be a gross dereliction of a district attorney's duty to the people of the state to elect not to appear in a serious felony case.¹¹⁹ District attorneys have the ability to prosecute and defend civil actions only when specifically authorized by the Constitution or by statute.¹²⁰ A district attorney has the authority to participate in noncriminal actions or proceedings that are in aid of or auxiliary to the district attorney's usual duties.¹²¹ A section 290.5 petition is civil litigation, not a criminal prosecution, but district attorneys are specifically required by statute to participate in this proceeding. The sex offender registry's purpose is to make law enforcement and the public aware of potentially dangerous individuals, so there is a strong public policy interest in requiring a sex offender's continued registration if there is reason to believe the petitioner still poses a potential threat to community safety. Therefore, if the district attorney determines that keeping a sex offender on the registry is in the interest of significantly enhancing community safety, it is not a discretionary action to exercise the authority granted by the test claim statute to request the court hold a hearing and to present evidence in the hearing.

Therefore, Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by the test claim statute, imposes state-mandated requirements on county law enforcement and district attorneys' offices.

2. The test claim statute does not impose any state-mandated requirements on county public defenders.

Unlike with law enforcement agencies or district attorneys however, the plain language of Penal Code section 290.5, as amended by the test claim statute, makes no mention of public defenders or petitioners having a right to counsel in the procedure to terminate a sex offender registration requirement. Nor do the other provisions of the Sex Offender Registration Act impose any requirements on public defenders. Looking at the test claim statute's legislative history, there was no discussion of public defenders representing petitioners that suggests intent that public defenders play a role in the petitioning process, or a general understanding that they would be inherently involved.¹²²

Despite the test claim statute not specifically requiring anything of public defenders, the claimant asserts that "the legislatively created post-conviction process in Penal Code section 290.5 would violate due process if a lawyer were not provided in this legal, evidentiary, and adversarial proceeding."¹²³ The claimant cites no statutes or case law that supports this, except to note that there are some limited circumstances where a public defender's duties to their client continue to civil matters after sentencing, using civil commitment hearings under the Sexually Violent

Predator Act as an example.¹²⁴ But the Sexually Violent Predator Act does specifically grant the right to counsel for civil commitment hearings.¹²⁵ Petitions for a certificate of rehabilitation also are granted a right to counsel.¹²⁶ There are no similar provisions in the test claim statute. The claimant also points to the fact that informational literature provided by the Department of Justice to registered sex offenders about the new tiered registration system directs them to seek assistance from public defenders as evidence of the public defenders' duty to represent petitioners.¹²⁷ Specifically, the Department of Justice said "The CA DOJ cannot provide legal assistance. If assistance is required, a registrant may contact a local public defender's office or a private attorney."¹²⁸ But that direction is not an executive order or legislative act that would create a reimbursable state mandate. Petitioning to terminate a duty to register as a sex offender is a post-conviction civil proceeding and petitioners do not have a constitutional right to representation.¹²⁹ The claimant fails to demonstrate how the test claim statute allegedly imposes activities on public defenders when the plain language of the test claim statute does not require public defender participation and the petitioners do not have a constitutional right to the effective assistance of counsel. Therefore the test claim statute does not impose any state-mandated activities on county public defenders.

C. The Mandated Activities Constitute a New Program or Higher Level of Service.

For the state-mandated activity to constitute a new program or higher level of service, it must be new when compared with the legal requirements in effect immediately before the enactment of the test claim statute and increase the level of service provided to the public.¹³⁰ In addition, the requirement must either carry out the governmental function of providing a service to the public, or impose unique requirements on local agencies or school districts that do not apply generally to all residents and entities in the state.¹³¹

1. The mandated activities are new in comparison to what was required under prior law.

The activities required of law enforcement agencies and district attorneys by the test claim statute are new in comparison to prior law, as under prior law the entire procedure of petitioning to be relieved of a duty to register after completing a mandatory minimum registration period did not exist. Under prior law, the only means of being relieved from the duty to register was through a certificate of rehabilitation.¹³² The certificate of rehabilitation process has not been eliminated and is still available to eligible sex offenders who may wish to see their other rights restored, meaning petitioning to be terminated from the sex offender registry is a new process that exists alongside, rather than replaces the certificate of rehabilitation process.

Thus, the mandated activities are new when compared to prior law.

2. The mandated activities carry out the governmental function of providing a service to the public, and impose unique requirements on counties that do not apply generally to all residents and entities in the state.

The activities required of law enforcement agencies and district attorneys serve the functional purpose of ensuring that registration continues when appropriate for individual sex offenders with a high risk of re-offense.¹³³ This carries out a governmental function of protecting and enhancing community safety, and provides a service to the public. In addition, the requirements are uniquely imposed on county law enforcement and district attorneys.

Thus, the mandated activities impose a new program or higher level of service.

D. There Are No Costs Mandated by the State Because the Test Claim Statute Falls Within the Government Code Section 17556(g) Exception for Statutes that “Eliminate a Crime or Infraction.”

The final element that must be met for reimbursement to be required under article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution is that the mandated activities must result in a local agency incurring increased costs mandated by the state within the meaning of Government Code section 17514. That section defines “costs mandated by the state” as “any increased costs which a local agency or school district is required to incur after July 1, 1980, as a result of any statute enacted on or after January 1, 1975, or any executive order implementing any statute enacted on or after January 1, 1975, which mandates a new program or higher level of service of an existing program within the meaning of Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution.” Government Code section 17564 also provides that “[n]o claim shall be made pursuant to Sections 17551, . . . , nor shall any payment be made on claims submitted pursuant to Sections 17551 or 17561, . . . , unless these claims exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000).” Even if the claims exceed $1,000, however, the claimed costs are not reimbursable if an exception identified in Government Code section 17556 applies.

¹³² Former Penal Code section 290.5, as last amended by Statutes 2014, chapter 280.

¹³³ Exhibit X (3), Senate Rules Committee, Office of Senate Analysis, Third Reading Analysis of SB 384, as amended September 8, 2017, Page 13.

Here, there is substantial evidence that the claimant incurred over $1,000 in complying with the test claim statute, as required by Government Code section 17564.¹³⁴

However, article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution does not require subvention for the enforcement or elimination of crime, or when the Legislature changes the penalty for a crime. Government Code section 17556(g) provides that the Commission “shall not find costs mandated by the state” when “the statute created a new crime or infraction, eliminated a crime or infraction, or changed the penalty for a crime or infraction, but only for that portion of the statute relating directly to the enforcement of the crime or infraction.”¹³⁵

Finance argued that this claim should be denied because of Government Code section 17556(g), but asserted that the test claim statute changed the penalty for a crime or infraction.¹³⁶ The claimant responded, and the Commission agrees, that the requirement to register as a sex offender is not historically considered a punishment by either the courts or the Legislature.¹³⁷ Rather, the requirement to register as a sex offender is considered non-punitive and civil in nature.¹³⁸ The stated legislative purpose behind the sex offender registry is to deter offenders from committing future crimes, provide law enforcement with an additional investigative tool, and increase public protection.¹³⁹ Courts have frequently found that the sex offender registry is not a punishment at least with respect to whether the registration requirement violates an individual’s constitutional rights against ex post facto laws or cruel and unusual punishments.¹⁴⁰ Both its purpose and effect are considered regulatory in nature because section 290 is meant to make sex offenders “readily available for police surveillance at all times because the legislature deemed them likely to commit similar offenses in the future.”¹⁴¹ The obligation to register is not part of the sentence, instead “the obligation is a separate consequence of [a sex offense conviction] automatically imposed as a matter of law.”¹⁴² The burdens caused by requiring convicted sex offenders continuously register are incidental to a legitimate government regulatory purpose, and being a registered sex offender does not impose affirmative restrictions that have a punitive effect. Despite being triggered by a person’s conviction for a sexual offense, the requirement to register as a sex offender is not itself a punishment. Therefore the test claim statute did not change the penalty for a crime or infraction.

Nevertheless, Government Code section 17556(g) still applies because the test claim statute eliminates a crime. The requirement to register as a sex offender is enforced by Penal Code section 290.018, which provides that a person who willfully violates any requirement under the Sex Offender Registration Act is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by up to a year imprisonment if the original conviction that triggered the registration requirement was a misdemeanor, or guilty of a felony punishable by up to three years imprisonment if the original conviction was a felony.¹⁴³ Under prior law, the requirement to register annually and any time the offender moved existed for life.¹⁴⁴ But the test claim statute eliminates the requirement for a sex offender to register under the Act once the offender has successfully petitioned to terminate their duty to register, as early as 10 or 20 years after release. Although the test claim statute made no changes to the language in section 290.018 regarding the criminal penalties, it did amend section 290 to note that every person described in the section has a duty to register under the Act “unless the duty to register is terminated pursuant to Section 290.5 . . .”¹⁴⁵ This means that once the duty to register is terminated, the offender is no longer subject to the requirements of the Sex Offender Registration Act, and any criminal penalties under Penal Code section 290.018 for failing to register or to otherwise comply for life are eliminated. Thus, the test claim statute has eliminated the crime within the meaning of Government Code section 17556(g), and, therefore, there are no costs mandated by the state.

Although the Commission’s past decisions on prior test claims are not precedential, this interpretation is consistent with the Commission’s prior decisions regarding the “eliminate a crime or infraction” language in Gov. Code section 17556(g). In Accomplice Liability for Felony Murder, 19-TC-02, the claimant sought reimbursement for costs associated with statutes that changed the felony murder rule and natural and probable causes doctrine to require either an intent to kill or that the defendant was a major participant in a crime who acted with reckless indifference towards human life, and allowed people convicted for murder under the felony murder rule or natural and probable causes doctrine prior to the change in law to petition to have their murder conviction vacated if they lacked the requisite state of mind.¹⁴⁶ Local agency interested parties argued this did not eliminate a crime because the test claim statute did not eliminate felony murder or murder under the natural and probable causes doctrine as crimes as a whole; the test claim statute only changed the element of malice required to find a person liable for the offenses.¹⁴⁷ The Commission was not convinced by this argument, noting that “The test claim statute and the court cases make it clear, however, that the crime of murder has been eliminated for those persons who lack intent to kill while committing other felonies, or who are not major participants acting with reckless indifference to human life, as they may no longer be found guilty of murder.”¹⁴⁸ Similarly, even though the test claim statute does not stop failure to register from being a crime as a whole, the test claim statute here makes it clear that those who have successfully petitioned the courts under section 290.5 no longer have a duty to register as a sex offender. This means they can no longer be found guilty under section 290.018 for failing to register, and thus the test claim statute eliminates a crime with respect to the people who are granted petitions under section 290.5.

¹⁴⁴ Former Penal Code section 290(b), as last amended by Proposition 35, section 9, approved November 6, 2012; Penal Code section 290.012, as added by Statutes 2007, chapter 579, and last amended by Statutes 2016, chapter 772; and Penal Code section 290.015 as added by Statutes 2007, chapter 579, and last amended by Statutes 2016, chapter 772.

Additionally, Sex Offenders: Disclosure by Law Enforcement Officers, 97-TC-15 is another prior Commission Decision dealing with the sex offender registry.¹⁴⁹ In that case, the test claim statute expanded the list of registerable offenses. The claimants argued that adding additional crimes to the list of registerable offenses did not create a new crime or change the definition of any crime.¹⁵⁰ The Commission found this interpretation lacking, and explained that if a person convicted of any of the newly added offenses does not register as a sex offender, they are now guilty of a misdemeanor or felony, whereas prior to the test claim statute, they would not have been guilty of a crime.¹⁵¹ Although the prior test claim deals in the creation of a new crime rather than the elimination of a crime, the same principle applies here. Under prior law, everyone who has been convicted of a registerable offense was guilty of a misdemeanor or felony if they do not register as a sex offender. But going from a system in which all registrants were expected to register for life to a tiered system that gives a clear path to be relieved of the duty to register eliminates a crime, because it is no longer a crime for a person to not register as a sex offender once they have successfully petitioned to have their registration requirement terminated.

Accordingly, the Commission finds that the test claim statute does not result in costs mandated by the state.

V. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing analysis, the Commission denies this Test Claim and finds that the test claim statutes do not impose a reimbursable state-mandated program within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution.
